This 2-day instructor led (16 classroom hrs) training program is being offered by National Alliance of Medical Auditing Specialists. With electronic medical record (EMR) adaptation on the rise, physicians are finding themselves more reliant on coding staff for auditing duties of the EMR or chart based record. When we become coders, we are taught how to pick the codes, but not much time is allocated to teaching the specific documentation requirements. Medical documentation audit training and certification will make this a seamless transition for coders in the work place.

Our goal is for you to confidently and proficiently audit any medical record. This training also prepares you for the AAPC's CPMA certification exam
